From 1 January 2009 changes to the post year 10 education and training system has seen TAFE Tasmania evolve into two separate organisations, the Tasmanian Polytechnic and the Tasmanian Skills Institute.

The Tasmanian Skills Institute supports businesses to build a strong skills base by delivering workforce development training to businesses and their employees.

The Tasmanian Polytechnic focuses on practical learning, with a vocational pathway, for all students seeking employment outcomes or university articulation.

So which organisation do you contact for your workforce skills development needs?
